1. Introduction

This is the 20th monthly report on violence and other forms of human rights violations on the basis of sexual orientation and gender identity/expression since the Anti-Homosexuality Act (AHA) came into force on 30th May 2023. The report discusses cases in which known or suspected LGBTIQ persons were targeted for violence and violations primarily on the basis of their SOGIE as reported in the month of January 2025. This report builds on the reports produced earlier in this series and therefore seeks to build on the data available about the enforcement of the AHA 2023 from 30th May 2023 to date.

2. Methodology

This report provides an overview of cases of violence and human rights violations on the basis of SOGIE that were reported to the HRAPF legal aid clinic during the month of January 2025. The data for this report was collected using both qualitative and quantitative methods of data collection, and it was independently verified and analysed to ensure its accuracy.

Quantitative data was obtained from a review of case files, which method yielded data on the number of cases handled and the number of cases in which acts of violence or other human rights violations were identified. This data was then subjected to a further in-depth qualitative analysis to ascertain the circumstances under which the incidents occurred, in order to ascertain that only cases in which such acts were perpetrated purely or primarily on the basis of real or presumed SOGIE are included in the report.

The data presented in this report is limited by the fact that it covers only cases reported through the HRAPF legal aid network. The report presents a fair picture of the situation for LGBTIQ persons across the country as reported to HRAPF's countrywide network of community paralegals, regional legal aid centres, specialized legal aid desks and the main legal aid clinic, but it may not be representative of all LGBTIQ persons' lived realities during the month, as we acknowledge the possibility that not all cases that occurred in January 2025 were reported to HRAPF's network.

3. Nature and number of cases reported

HRAPF handled a total of 61 cases in the month of January 2025, an increase from the 45 cases handled in December 2024. Out of the 61 cases handled, 21 cases involved actions that directly targeted people for negative treatment on the basis of their SOGIE, representing 34.4% of all the cases handled during the month of January 2025. The number of victims affected by these violations increased from 23 persons in December 2025 to 28 persons in January 2025.

Out of the 21 cases in which LGBTIQ people were specifically targeted for violent treatment during the month of January 2025, 8 cases involved violence and threats of violence, 6 were arrests on sexuality related charges, 6 were eviction cases and one was a case of discrimination in employment. The incidents affected 28 individuals.

This section of the report provides detailed data on these cases.

3.1. Cases involving actual violence and threats of violence

Cases involving violence and threats of violence against individuals on the basis of their real or presumed SOGIE were the highest in January, at 8 cases affecting 10 people, as compared to 3 cases affecting 3 persons in December 2024. 7 of the cases involved actual violence while 1 case involved threats of violence based on the victims presumed SOGIE.

i. Cases of actual violence

There were 7 incidents of actual violence against persons on the basis of their presumed SOGIE, affecting 8 individuals. 5 of these incidents were perpetrated by unknown persons, 1 by members of the general community and 1 by neighbours of the victims. 6 of the incidents involved physical assaults while in 1 case, the victim reported sexual assault in the form of a gang rape. 6 of the cases were registered from Isingiro district and 1 case was registered from Kampala district. It should be noted that Isingiro hosts Nakivale Refugee Settlement where violence against suspected LGBTIQ persons is rising.

The table below discusses these cases in detail:

3.3. Arrests

There was a decrease in the number of arrests on sexuality related charges from 8 cases affecting 12 persons in December 2024, to 6 cases affecting 11 persons in January 2025. In 3 of these cases, the victims were charged with homosexuality under the Anti-Homosexuality Act while in the other three cases, clients were charged with being a common nuisance, 'computer misuse' and human trafficking and 'sodomy' in one case. In five of the cases, the victims were released on police bond while in 1 of the cases, the victim was arraigned before the Chief Magistrates Court of Kiruhura on charges of homosexuality, and he is currently on remand at Kiruhuru Main Prison. 3 of the arrests were registered in Kampala and 1 arrest each registered in Wakiso, Kisoro and Kiruhura districts.

In a disturbing trend, there has been an increase in the number of incidents of individuals being entrapped through the use of gay dating apps, both by police officers and civilians. In the month of January, 3 of the arrests were effected after the victims were trapped into meetings by people with whom they had connected with via gay dating apps.

This table provides a detailed breakdown of the arrests

No.	Case code	Date	of	District	Charges	Brief facts	No.	of reportir	ıg		preferred		Victims

1.	HRAPF/PA/771 /25	3/01/25	Kampala	Homosexuality	The client met a man on a gay dating app who lured him to a meeting near Lukuli Police Station, where he was attacked and beaten by someone he suspects is the same man he met on the app. The attacker robbed him of his phone and wallet, and then dragged him to Lukuli Police Station, where he was held on charges of homosexuality.	1
2.	HRAPF/PA/772 /2025	9/01/25	Wakiso	Common Nuisance	The clients were at home when police officers forcefully barged into their house, accusing them of causing insecurity in the area because they lived together (5 young men) in the same house. They then searched the premises, finding some condoms and lubricants in a bedside drawer. They arrested all 5 of them, accusing them of being homosexuals, and detained them for 3 days at Wakiso Police Station on allegations of homosexuality. Upon their release, however, the bond forms indicated that they had been charged with being a common nuisance.	5
3.	HRAPF/PA/773 /25	7/01/25	Kampala	Homosexuality	The client was tricked into a meeting near Lukuli Police Station by a person he met on a gay dating app. The person took him to Lukuli Police Station, where he was held on charges of homosexuality. He was forced to give his phone and password to the 'complainant', who then called several of his contacts to inform them that the client was arrested because he is a homosexual. Upon his release, he found that he had been evicted by his auntie, with whom he used to live, and fired from work because of his sexuality.	1
4.	HRAPF/PA/774 /25	25/01/25	Kisoro	Human trafficking and	The clients in this case were arrested on 21st January 2025 and held at Kisoro CPS until the 31st of January,	2 arrest was based on allegations by a friend of theirs, who reported to police that one of them had been trying to persuade him to have sex with him, and that the two were trying to extort him.

5.	HRAPF/PA/775	14/01/25	Kiruhura	Homosexuality	The client was arrested, detained at Rwakobo Police	1
	/25				Station for 4 days before being produced in court on charges of homosexuality and remanded to Kiruhura Main Prisons. This happened after he was attacked by some men he found in a bar where he had gone to drink. The men beat him until he was unconscious, then dragged him to the police station and told officers that he was a homosexual.
6.	HRAPF/PA/776	17/01/25	Kampala	Computer	The client was, in a growing trend, tricked into	1
	/2025			misuse	meeting someone he met on a gay dating app near Lukuli Police Station. The person forcibly dragged him to the station, where he was held for 2 days.
					Although he was formally charged with 'computer misuse', the police officers continuously told him that they had been reliably informed that he is a homosexual and that is why they had tracked him down and arrested him.

3.4. Other violations

There was one case of loss of employment during the month.

1.	HRAPF/PA/766	17/01/25	Mbale	Employer	The client was employed as a chef at a restaurant that	1
	/2025				also gave him accommodation. He often had his partner visit him at his home, and the manager started to raise concerns that the visitor looked like a homosexual, and asked the client to stop inviting homosexuals to the premises. When the client did not heed this warning, the manager publicly called him a homosexual in a staff meeting, telling his colleagues that he had started bringing his fellow homosexuals to the restaurant. The Manager later summarily terminated his employment contract and demanded that he leave the premises, including his room, that very day.

4. Comparison with December 2024

There was an increase in the overall number of cases reported in January 2025, from 45 cases in December 2024, to 61 cases in January 2025. The number of cases involving actions that deliberately targeted persons for negative treatment on basis of their real or presumed SOGIE also increased from 18 cases in December 2024, to 21 cases in January 2025, and the number of victims affected by these violations also increased from 23 persons in December 2024 to 28 persons in January 2025.

Cases of violence and threats of violence were the highest number of cases registered during the month of January 2025, at 8 cases affecting 10 individuals, compared to 3 incidents affecting 3 individuals reported in December 2024. The number of evictions slightly reduced to 6 incidents, and the number of victims affected by these evictions reduced from 8 in December 2024 to 6 in January 2025. Cases of arrest reduced from 8 cases affecting 12 people in December 2024 to 6 cases affecting 11 persons in January 2025. A case of discrimination in employment was recorded.

5. Comparison with January 2024

In comparison with January of 2024, there has been a dramatic reduction in the number of cases handled. The total number of cases reduced from 121 in January 2024 to 61 in January 2025, a 49.6% reduction. The number of cases in which individuals were specifically targeted for detrimental treatment on the basis of their sexuality also reduced from 59 cases in January 2024 to 21 cases in January 2025, a 64.4% reduction. In January 2024, the highest number of incidents were cases of eviction, at 30 cases, followed by cases of violence and threats of violence at 25 cases. There were only 4 arrests of individuals for sexuality-related reasons in January 2024.

In contrast, out of the 21 cases in which individuals were directly targeted for negative treatment in January 2025, the highest number of cases was incidents of violence and threats of violence, with 8 cases recorded, followed by evictions at 6 incidents. Arrests for sexuality-related reasons were 6 cases, although it is worth noting that arrests have increased in the intervening year, with many of them being orchestrated by entrapment through the use of gay dating apps.

The number of evictions continues to decline in a more or less steady trend since April 2024, as noted in previous reports in the series, although there is a general reduction in violence and violations against real and presumed LGBT persons between January 2024 and January 2025. The number of persons affected has also reduced significantly from 73 persons in January 2024 to 28 individuals in January 2025.

6. Comparison with January 2023 (before the AHA)

In January 2023, a total of 35 cases were handled involving LGBTIQ persons, of which 8 cases involved actions that directly targeted persons on the basis of their real or presumed SOGIE, and they included 4 cases of evictions and 3 cases of real or threatened violence. There was only 1 arrest. It is thus clear that, although there is a general reduction in cases of violence and violations against LGBTQ persons between January 2024 and January 2025, the number still remain much higher than they were prior to the enactment of the AHA, with cases in which individuals were deliberately targeted for negative treatment on basis of their SOGIE increasing by 162.5% from 8 cases in January 2023 to 21 cases in January 2025.

7. The first 20 months of the AHA 2023 in Uganda

In the first 20 months of the AHA 2023, a total of 1,546 cases involving LGBTIQ persons have been handled across the HRAPF legal aid network, of which 781 (50.5%) targeted LGBTIQ people on the basis of their sexuality, affecting a total of 995 persons.

The breakdown of cases so far is as follows:

8. Conclusion

The continued enforcement of the Anti- Homosexuality Act 2023, exacerbates the violations being committed against the LGBTI persons in Uganda both by law enforcement officers and people in their private capacities. It is therefore important that more efforts are concentrated towards the annulment of the AHA. The concentrated cases of violence in Nakivale Refugee settlement are worrying.
